Academic Results 2020

Stretching Hearts And Minds

This year our Prep 7 (Year 6) girls have been an exceptional cohort in so many ways. They have achieved much both individually and collectively in a year that has presented unprecedented challenges for all.

For some, their journey started in Ducklings (Nursery) eight years ago, others have come more recently, adapting quickly to the pace and expectations we have for them.

Academically they have excelled in some of the most demanding examinations for senior school entry in the country, maintaining the high standard which has built the Loreto reputation far and wide. We are delighted that Loreto Preparatory School continues to prepare children for a wide variety of schools. There are so many good schools locally, both state and independent.

As can be seen from the chart below, in September 2020 they will start at a wide variety of schools across this area and further afield.

We are proud of each and every one of them, since we believe that they have given of their best throughout and that they are going on to schools where they will continue to be happy and to thrive.

It is a key strength of Loreto Preparatory School that we continue to prepare children so well for such a wide range of schools, because every child is different and they will be happiest and most successful when matched with a school that suits their personality, strengths and interests.

Loreto Preparatory School pupils are highly sought after by local schools because their qualities as young people and learners are well known. They continue to achieve in the local state Grammar School Examinations where competition is particularly high and reliant on catchment criteria and academic performance.

Grammar School Places

Pass rates for each school are highly impressive. We cannot guarantee that every girl will pass the entrance exam to every school, but we will do our best for them, while also guiding our parents on all the choices available to them.

That the pupils have achieved these results alongside so many other enriching activities in sport, music, drama, outdoor education, scientific and language study, art, leadership roles and much besides, says much about their determination to do their very best in all that they do.

This year has presented its own challenges for these pupils, with the COVID-19 pandemic, but characteristically they have not complained, but rather seen it as an opportunity to be more creative, more resilient and more collaborative, and embrace their love of learning.

Congratulations to every one of them.
